

188bet csgo

The primary difference between a full frame and crop sensors is simply the physical size of the sensor. Full frame sensors are 35mm x 24mm while crop sensors are smaller than this and can vary in dimensions. Sensors come in several sizes, have varying characteristics and wildly differing prices.

What is the Difference Between a Full Frame Sensor and a Crop Sensor?

maxfosterphotography : gallery : difference-between-full-frames-and-crop-sensors

Autor: jamescall.com

Assunto: 188bet csgo

Palavras-chave: 188bet csgo

Tempo: 2025/1/3 18:44:08