Sports bets were legalized in Brazil in 2024 but never regulated. Since then, dozens of betting firms (including Bet365, Betano and Betfair), have been aggressively competing for market share from the country's largest trust company, Caixa Econômica Federal. The Thomson Reuters Trust Principles in Brazil have been widely criticized for their lack of transparency and accountability. Reports from the country's largest trust company, Caixa Econômica Federal, have shown that the company has been operating in a highly unregulated environment. The company refused a payout of 54,000 to a customer in England in 2024. The case, which was still ongoing in 2024, involved Bet365.
