Blackjack, also known as 21, is a popular casino card game in which players compare their hand of cards with that of the dealer. To win at Blackjack, a player must create a hand with a higher total than the dealer's, but not exceeding 21. If a player's hand exceeds 21, they are said to have "gone bust" and lose their bet. The dealer's hand is played automatically, following a set of rules. The player's hand is played by choice, with the option to hit (take another card) or stand (keep the current hand). The game is played on a table with a croupier (dealer) and several players. The dealer's hand is dealt face down, while the player's hand is dealt face up. The game is played in a clockwise direction, starting with the player to the left of the dealer. The dealer's hand is dealt first, followed by the player's hand. The game ends when the dealer's hand is dealt and the player's hand is played. The player's hand is then compared to the dealer's hand to determine the winner. If the player's hand is higher than the dealer's hand, the player wins. If the dealer's hand is higher than the player's hand, the dealer wins. If the hands are equal, it is a tie and the bet is returned. The game is played with a standard 52-card deck. The cards are dealt in a clockwise direction, starting with the player to the left of the dealer. The dealer's hand is dealt first, followed by the player's hand.
